

The Best Spring Break Trips to Pay for With Your Tax Refund

Most people will be tempted to save the money for rainy days. But don't you think you deserve to live a little after working so hard all year? You can travel to an affordable adventure destination or go somewhere and splurge. Either way, packing your bags and going away for a week will be one of best ideas you'll have all year.

Washington D.C.

Shutterstock

Capital Kiddos Package at The Darcy in Washington, D.C.

For families visiting D.C., The Darcy offers an upscale experience with a bevy of exciting programming. The Darcy makes exploring D.C. an adventure with perks such as the “gear shop,” complete with bikes, scooters and strollers for guests, Darcy Daypacks and the Capital Kiddos Package. It includes suite accommodations with an in-room play tent and seasonal handmade ice cream cookie sandwiches for up to four guests. Kids can also choose to borrow a “Darcy Daypacks” from the front desk. Each one is themed and filled with treats; try the “Mini Monet” for the budding artist or the “Shoot for the Stars pack, with astronaut essentials like freeze-dried ice cream.